

Amorians in Palestine.

Two years ago, an effort was made in a new line to ameliorate the condition of the inhabitants of Palestine. Seven American...

Their location was in the valley of Artos, upon the very site of one of the gardens of Solomon.

Their friends in the city were much opposed to their going out there to reside, urging them, if they were determined to try to cultivate the soil...

The operations, instead of exciting the jealousy of the Arabs, aroused them to a state of surprise, and the news of what Americans at Solomon's garden were doing...

One day the farm received a visit from twenty-five sheiks, who inspected all the tools and the way they were used and the effect produced...

It would have been dangerous now for any one to molest the American farmers, since they had all the sheiks and principal men in the country on their side...

From Nicaragua.

SAN JUAN, JUNE 17.—The health of the Isthmus was very good.

The news from the interior of Nicaragua continues of a very exciting kind.

The revolutionary party had not succeeded, at the last accounts, in getting possession of Granada.

A party of revolutionists had sailed for San Juan, by far, the most important in Nicaragua, as it commands the Lake Nicaragua...

The general impression is, that ere this, Castillo has defeated Chamano at Granada.

At San Juan, things are unchanged since the sailing of the last steamer.

Our Consul, Mr. Fabius, had received official notice from the Government at Washington of their determination to dispatch the Cyane immediately to San Juan.

Capt. Hollins, it will be remembered, did efficient service at that port some fourteen months since, when the people of San Juan contemplated the destruction of the Transit Company at Punta Arenas.

The following is a list of the officers of the American guard at Punta Arenas:

Capt. Crawford Fletcher, of Tennessee; First Lieut. William Grant, of New York;

Second Lieut. J. P. Lauriston, of Baltimore, with sixty privates, all well drilled and in good health.

CONF. DE SOLER.—We regret to learn that three negroes, on the plantation of Mr. Isaac Dulin eleven miles north of this place, were struck down by sun-strokes during the last week.

Two were restored, the third, however, was fatal.—Newbernian, 4th inst.

To Editors and Clerks of County Courts.

We are pleased to learn that the labor of the Rev. John P. Campbell, and many of his agents, has been successful in collecting materials for his Southern Business Directory and General Commercial Advertiser.

It is proposed that, in addition to a full list of all Merchants, Manufacturers, (by machinery) Bank, Insurance, Railroad, Steamboat, Steam Packet and Mining Companies, together with the population and number of high schools, churches and commercial prospects, &c., of every principle town in the States of Kentucky, North Carolina, and all the States south of them, (eleven in number) that the cards of newspapers be inserted also, that the names of Editors and Proprietors, and days and terms of issue, and that a copy of the Directory be sent to each of them as a remuneration for two insertions of this article in their editorial columns.

This exchange of courtesies has been made between Mr. Campbell and the editors of the South.

We are requested to tender his hearty thanks to Parish, District, and County Court Clerks, who have remitted him lists as above, and that if a copy of the Directory with their office card inserted will not compensate them for it, they will please forward their bill with the list, to him.

It is important that every county shall be represented soon.

Every newspaper in the above-named States will please copy the above twice, and send their card, or their paper containing it, to the "Southern Business Director," and General Commercial Advertiser," Nashville, Tenn. Clerks and agents address the same.

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE.—The Citizen, John Mitchell's paper, noticing the recent death of the "young amiable and beautiful" wife of Thomas Francis Meagher, says:

"When we think of her, a tender girl out in her native Tasmanian woods, roaming through the cloisters of the forest, fragrant of the gum and the honeysuckle, a few years since: remember her as the chosen comfort of the banished patriot—the good spirit of his solitude—the Egera of the outlaw: behold her as the young wife to whom a severance from her husband was a duty and a loving necessity, that he might escape: again behold her following his track—the Australian cross, the constellation of her birth-home, fading from the heavens' and the northern light guiding her to a new home and a generous love—thus beholding her in her happiness and her anxiety, both twined like garlands round a soldier of freedom—must we not the more touchingly remember (if we dare not as touchingly record) such a devotion?"

DUTIES OF MASONS.—Many persons appear to be very curious to know the duties and obligations of Masons, as an organized brotherhood.

For the paternal gratification of such we make the following short extract from an address of the G. M. of the Grand Lodge of Arkansas:

"I ought not, perhaps, to permit this opportunity to pass without some general remarks as to the duties resting upon us all as masons. No one who has listened to the moral instructions given in our lodges, and the lectures and charges so earnestly impressed upon the candidate, can doubt that Masonry requires and enjoins a high standard of morality not inferior to the purest ethics of our most approved writers.

It becomes then, the special duty of us all, in our daily walk and conversation, to illustrate the virtues it enjoins, and attain to that purity of life and character which it requires.

We are strictly charged to the performance of our duty to God, to our neighbor, and to ourselves. Think you that the first is not violated, if his name be profaned at almost every breath; if it be constantly invoked in levity and fun, in thoughtlessness or in falsehood, in anger, in passion, in imprecation? Dare we hope that the All-seeing Eye is closed? that he will not see such dark spots, if we permit them to soil our Masonic badge, when we seek to gain admission into the Celestial Lodge above, where the Supreme Architect of the Universe resides."

The Mad Stone.

The Petersburg (Va.) Intelligencer, of the 22d ult., thus describes this curious venom destroyer or extractor: We were shown yesterday one of those curious natural poison extractors, known as the mad stone, of which there are several that we had heard of in different parts of Eastern Virginia.

That which was shown us is in the possession of Mr. Oliver, who resides upon Halifax street, in this city, and we are informed that he has several certificates of cases in which it has been successfully used for the bite of the mad dog. It is rectangular in shape, with parallel sides and polished surfaces, traversed by dark gray and brown streaks, and about a size larger than half a Tonqua bean, except that it is not near so thick.

Upon being applied to the wound of the patient it soon extracts the virus, which, it is said, may be distinctly seen in the water into which it is repeatedly dipped during the operation.

Most of our elderly readers in this part of the State are no doubt familiar with the tales of cures effected by this wonderful stone. The one we are speaking of possesses a high reputation for its efficacy in hydrophobia, substantiated by testimony. However marvellous may seem such a power in so simple a substance, yet it is not more so than many other mysteries of nature, and we do not see why incredulity should not bow to the recognition of it as an antidote against one of the most appalling and deadly diseases by which the human frame can be racked.

At all events, its reputed virtue is susceptible of being easily and fully tested should a case unfortunately arise requiring a resort to it, which we sincerely pray may never be. We think that we confer a public benefit by making known the fact that there is such a stone in the city, which we learn has been known to act as a sovereign remedy for the bite of a mad dog in repeated instances.

FATHER RITCHIE.—We are afraid this old veteran's course is nearly run.

We clip the following from the Richmond Enquirer of Friday:

"We received with pain yesterday telegraphic despatches from Washington, announcing the extreme illness of Mr. Thomas Ritchie. The members of his family in Virginia, including the senior editor of this paper, have been called to his bedside.

TELEGRAPHIC.

From the Carolinian.

WASHINGTON, July 3.

DEATH OF MR. RITCHIE.—The venerable Thomas Ritchie, the Ajax of the democratic press, died here at noon to-day after a lingering illness.

BALTIMORE, July 3.

THE CHOLERA.—The cholera is prevailing to a limited extent in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Baltimore is so far exempt from the scourge.

WASHINGTON, July 3.

TREATY REJECTED.—It is rumored that the Senate on Saturday rejected the treaty of reciprocity recently concluded between Lord Elgin and Mr. Marcy.

NEW YORK, July 1.

FATAL RECONCILE.—A fight with bow-knives occurred at the St. Nicholas Hotel to-day between White and Conner, noted Southern sporting men. Conner was killed and White badly wounded.

BALTIMORE, June 30.

The royal mail steam ship Europa, Capt. Neil Shannon, has arrived at New-York, with four days later advices from Liverpool, whence she sailed on Saturday, the 17th inst.

WHERE IS NEBRASKA?—Nebraska is bounded easterly by Minnesota and Iowa, on the west by the Rocky Mountains, on the south by a continuation of the southern boundary of Iowa, running due west to the Rocky Mountains, about as far south as the city of New York.

CHOLERA NOT IN CHATTANOOGA.—For reasons we will not pretend to give, a certain class of lazy and foolish persons, along the lines of rail road leading to this city, have been amusing the weak minded by reporting a terrible fatality of cholera in this city, for purposes we know not, unless to injure the business in this season of the year.

We have been made concerning us at Cotons Springs, Dalton and elsewhere, to deter visitors from the mountains and make a fright generally. When we say that not a single case of Cholera has occurred in Chattanooga we simply speak the truth, nor is there any indication of this disease. The city was never more healthy heretofore at this season of the year.—Chattanooga Advertiser.

SINGULAR DEATH.—Mr. J. H. Morehead, living near Paris, Mo., died a short time since, under singular circumstances.

He arose in the morning, apparently in his usual health, and after partaking of his breakfast, he ordered his negro man to bring a long bench into the house, saying he expected to die soon and wished to be laid out on the same.

He then ordered him to fire off a gun as he wanted to ascertain whether he could hear the report. After this, his wife asked him if she should send the negro to work in the field; he replied that he was going to die and he wished the negro to stay and help lay him out. He then laid down and expired soon after.

THE GREEN BAY ADVOCATE HAS CAUGHT THE REV. ELEAZER WILLIAMS, the reputed Dauphin of France fairly napping.

It seems that in 1845 the Rev. Eleazer was sued for a note given in 1843—a debt contracted long after he pretends to have been informed by the Prince de Joinville of the secret of his royal origin, and when, according to his story, he knew he was a Bourbon Prince and not an Indian at all—and in his declaration, endeavored to escape the payment of the debt on the plea that he was a St. Regis Indian, and therefore incapable of making contracts. A pretended Prince, he yet swears that he is an Indian!

THE CUBAN FILLIBUSTERS.—It is understood among the southern members of Congress that those disposed to fillibuster just now, have taken due care to refrain from acts for which they can be indicted before any United States Court.

So, notwithstanding the very emphatic charge of Judge Campbell, they not only anticipate that Felix Sum-ton, Gen. Quitman, and the rest of those summoned as witnesses to give testimony before the grand jury will obey that order, but they cannot give evidence which will enable the court to hold them for trial.—Washington Star.

COL. W. C. PRESTON.—With regard to the health and personal movements of our distinguished fellow-citizen above named, the Wytheville (Va.) Republican gives the following information:

"The Hon. Wm. C. Preston, of South Carolina, arrived in Wytheville on last Wednesday, and rested a day with his friend and relative, Col. B. L. Floyd. He was on his way to Montgomery and Botetourt, on a visit to his relation in those counties. Mr. Preston has been suffering for some time from a very severe attack of paralysis, but we hope our pure and bracing mountain air will materially improve his health."

SENATOR DOUGLAS' handsome house in the neighborhood of the Capitol, was struck by lightning in half a dozen places during the last storm.

The fluid that the plaster from several of the rooms, one of which it entered, broke sundry windows, chandeliers, and did a good deal of mischief. Mr. Douglas, with good humor, says he has been burnt in effigy, hung in effigy, denounced by the clergy, and that he is now struck by lightning.—But he adds: "I wasn't at home." And so he thinks, that surviving all this, Providence is on his side.

FATHER RITCHIE.—We are afraid this old veteran's course is nearly run.

We clip the following from the Richmond Enquirer of Friday:

"We received with pain yesterday telegraphic despatches from Washington, announcing the extreme illness of Mr. Thomas Ritchie. The members of his family in Virginia, including the senior editor of this paper, have been called to his bedside.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life on Sunday morning, 25th ult., at the residence of his father, COLUMBUS J. WALDROP, in the 20th year of his age, after a painful illness of seven weeks, which he bore with the greatest fortitude and resignation. He had endeared himself to many friends by his kindness and urbanity of conduct. He was well acquainted to the writer of this, who can truly say he was gentleness in all his relations: as a son, he was dutiful—as a friend, he was faithful—as a member of the order of the Sons of Temper, he was loyal and true. His remains were accompanied to the lonely grave by a large number of friends and acquaintances, whose sorrow was shown by the tears shed on the occasion; yet they wept not as those having no hope, for the deceased, although not a member of the visible church of the Lord upon earth, had been serious for some months previous to his death, and was much given to the reading of the Scriptures, and left the pleasing assurance that he was willing and ready to go, and expected to join the church triumphant above, where he hoped to meet his friends.
